EdwinCoe LLP

Property Litigation

Edwin Coe's Property Litigation team comprises lawyers with extensive City experience and provides a comprehensive partner-led service covering all aspects of real estate litigation.

The Property Litigation team has experience of almost every type of property dispute from joint venture and conveyancing disputes, to trespass, party wall and developer claims, and from professional negligence and rectification claims, to the full range of landlords and tenants disputes, including breaches of covenant, possession and service charge problems, business lease renewal and dilapidations claims.

The focus of the team is on achieving the right commercial outcome for a client and exploring cost-effective ways of reaching that end, although often litigation is inevitable.

With a reputation for being straightforward and tenacious, as well as having a depth of knowledge and expertise in real estate litigation, essential in such a technical area, we receive a high level of referrals from surveyors, accountants and other lawyers.

We advise landlords, tenants, multiple national retailers, developers, local authorities and individual property investors. Clients range from substantial PLC's to small and medium sized businesses and private individuals. Advising a range of clients leads to an insight into the considerations and procedures of large corporations and also individuals.

The split of work is even between landlords and tenants and this provides a significant advantage in terms of the tactical considerations so important in this area, by providing us with invaluable knowledge of all aspects of property transactions and by being able to know what the opponent should be thinking.

Our partners are members of the Property Litigation Association, the Professional Negligence Lawyers Association and APIL as well as various other litigation associations.
