

Brendan O'Shea

Partner

Private Client

Brendan has extensive experience of dealing with a high volume of Intestacy cases. The estates can be complicated and involve issues not normally encountered in a standard probate practice. In almost all cases, the deceased did not leave a Will or have any known relatives.

Brendan joined Edwin Coe in 2005 and has been instructed in estates requiring the re-sealing of foreign grants in the UK, MANX Letters of Administration, Inheritance (Provisions for Family and Dependents) Act 1975 disputes and Financial Ombudsman Services claims. As a result, he has a significant range of experience in Intestate Estates.
