

Greg Horsford

Senior Associate

Corporate

Greg is a Senior Associate and joined Edwin Coe's Corporate team in September 2023, advising on a broad range of corporate and commercial transactions (both in the UK and on cross-border matters).

He predominately advises on private mergers and acquisitions, fundraising, joint ventures and shareholders' agreements, as well as on partnership and LLP matters, with experience acting for both corporate and individual clients across a diverse range of sectors.

Experience

- Advised a Fin-Tech company on various corporate matters including multiple fundraisings (from various PE investors, banks and other institutional funders) as well as advising on their constitutional documentation and more general corporate advisory and commercial work.
- Advised various family offices in relation to their investments (including in a high-profile sports team and separately in an international pharmaceutical company).
- Advised a wealth management company regarding the incorporation of a fund to facilitate cryptocurrency investments.
- Advised a Swiss-listed company on their purchase of a central London hotel division for £60m.
