

Marianna Ryan

Associate

Intellectual Property

Marianna is a dual-qualified (English and Russian) solicitor, specialising in Intellectual Property laws.

She advises a broad range of individual and corporate clients of various sizes and across different sectors, including IT, digital assets, gaming, fashion, entertainment, publishing, manufacturing, and food & drink.

Outside of her daily work, Marianna is actively engaged in academia. She is currently in the process of writing her PhD thesis at King's College London on the issues of fair remuneration of literary authors. Marianna teaches an LL.M module "Commercialisation of Intellectual Property" and is a senior editor at King's Student Law Review (KSLR). She also sits on the Board of King's Doctoral Students' Association (KDSA), representing doctoral students of the Dickson Poon School of Law.

In her spare time Marianna enjoys jogging, learning foreign languages, networking and travelling.
