

Mark Dainty

Formalities Coordinator

Intellectual Property

Mark studied American Management Science at the University of Wales, Swansea before spending nine years working in Higher Education. Mark spent five years supporting the International MBA programme at Kingston University, during which time he earned a Masters Degree in Management Studies. This was followed by positions at both Kingston University and University of Surrey heading up Faculty Admissions Teams.

In November 2014 he started working for Alexander Ramage Associates in their Formalities Department, and joined Edwin Coe in April 2015.

Mark supports the Intellectual Property team to provide a high level of service to clients. This includes the application, prosecution, grant and renewal of clients Intellectual Property rights. Mark files trade mark and registered design applications at UK, EU and International level and assists the attorneys in managing and coordinating clients trade marks and registered design portfolios.
