

EdwinCoe LLP

Construction

Edwin Coe's construction team offers a full range of construction legal services in connection with both domestic and international construction projects and works closely with the property and litigation departments to provide a full service to our clients.

We advise on all aspects of construction law including:

- Procurement strategies
- Property development agreements
- Property finance agreements
- Building contracts
- Professional appointments
- Pre-construction services agreements
- Warranties
- Guarantees and bonds
- Risk and project management
- Dispute avoidance and dispute resolution.

Our non-contentious construction work often involves working with the firm's property lawyers and we always ensure that our advice is delivered in the context of the whole transaction and the commercial drivers behind it. We are also able to call upon specialists elsewhere in the firm when necessary to advise on matters such as project finance and banking, corporate structures, tax, and intellectual property issues.

We advise employers, contractors and consultants on all types of construction disputes whether adjudication, expert determination, litigation and arbitration. We understand that most clients would prefer to resolve their construction dispute without resorting to formal dispute resolution and we are well versed in the use of alternative dispute resolution techniques including negotiation, mediation, conciliation, joint expert determination and dispute review boards. When full scale litigation or arbitration is unavoidable, we will staff the matter with an experienced partner-led team who will deal with the matter in the most cost effective manner and will strive to achieve the most commercially advantageous solutions for our client.

'Brenna Baye, Nik Haria, and the rest of the team are excellent communicators, and their advice acts in the best interests of clients.'
