Experience

Examples of Her Senior Executive Work:

- Acting for the compliance director of a property management company. Our client asserted consistent and historic underpayment of salary and bonus in comparison to male colleagues at comparable seniority. She asserted equal pay and sex discrimination claims in severance negotiations and settlement for all backdated underpayments was achieved.
- Acting for the chief risk officer for a large commercial insurance and reinsurance company in relation to their dismissal for spurious reasons following the making of protected disclosures. A whistleblowing claim was issued and proceedings were settled prior to trial.
- Acting for senior executive in investment bank in connection with disciplinary proceedings brought against our client in connection with an undisclosed personal relationship at work and issues arising on the breakdown of that relationship. Avoided any disciplinary sanction and preserved FCA regulatory reference under threat by internal proceedings.
- Acting for a senior business development director in family office facing allegations of the misuse of confidential information which included demands for disclosure of communications by WhatsApp and a private email account. Safeguarded our client's private communications and secured substantial settlement.
- Acting for 3 members of a property investment team who left their employer to join a competitor, to include the defence and settlement of proceedings issued by their former employer. Our clients were able to continue working and reached settlement terms substantially below sums sought by former employer.
- Acting for a female equity partner of a global US head quartered law firm following an attempt to expel her from the partnership. Issued proceedings for sex discrimination, and following mediation, reaching a seven figure severance.

Examples of Her Work For Businesses:

- Advising a professional services partnership on complex disability discrimination issues arising with an under-performing employee. Dealt with the 'decoupling' of the under-performance issues with those arising from the employee's ill health. We successfully supported the client in navigating careful engagement with the employee and Occupational Health, identifying issues arising, advising on reasonable adjustments and how to monitor performance in that context without exposing the client to an allegation of disability discrimination. No claims issued against our client.
- Advising a global paper supplier in the management of sexual harassment allegations arising from an incident at work resulting in an assault of a sexual nature in the office. Careful and effective management resulted in the resolution of the matter with no claims arising against our client.
- Advising an investment property management company partnership on the expulsion of a partner who was diverting maturing business opportunities and the issue of LCIA Arbitration proceedings. The matter was vigorously defended and it involved complex property investment structures but was ultimately settled without the need for a full arbitration hearing and without any compensatory payments by our client.
- Acting for industry specific headhunting company in respect of the wholesale theft of data by client relationship manager moving to a competitor. Obtained an order for delivery up from the High Court and not withstanding consistent denials by the ex-employee, all confidential information was returned to our client upon service of the High Court Order.
- Acting for research company poaching a team of 8 from a competitor. Advising in respect of approach strategy and the provision of limited indemnities to the target staff for some specified potential claims arising from a team move.
- Advising on line betting company on grievances raised by two employees which included whistleblowing and disability discrimination allegations in regulated industry.
- Advising firm of accounts on disciplinary issues arising from a breakdown in the working relationship between two members of staff raising multiple cross-grievances against each other, paralysing the work in the department. Resulting in appropriate resolution and no claims arising.
